LETTER FROM THE PRESIDENT

Mark A. Studer

The Pennsylvania Golf Association completed its 98th year of administering competitive amateur golf in the Commonwealth. It was a season highlighted by astonishing venues and spectacular performances.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank all of our Pennsylvania Golf Association Member Clubs for their unwavering support and especially extend the Association's gratitude to the memberships, professional staffs and course maintenance crews of each host facility.

I must also thank Your Pennsylvania Toyota Dealers for stepping into the role, once again, as the presenting sponsor of 10 Pennsylvania Golf Association tournaments.

In addition, I would be remiss not to acknowledge the Pennsylvania Golf Association Executive Committee, tournament volunteers and staff for the endless hours of time and effort put forth to make the 2007 season a success.

Congratulations to Nathan Smith of Pinecrest, Pa., the recipient of the 2007 W.C. Fownes, Jr., Player of the Year Award. Smith edged Mike Van Sickle of Wexford, Pa., by just 47 points on the strength of a Round of 16 appearance in the U.S. Middle-Amateur Championship at Bandon Dunes Golf Resort in Bandon Dunes, Ore. Smith became the first repeat winner of the Fownes Player of the Year in the five-year history of the award. Praise is also in order for Paul Schlachter of The Club at Nevillewood, the 2007 Senior Player of the Year. Schlachter proved a dominant force in Senior golf in 2007, not only taking the State's first-ever Senior POY, but also earning the 2007 Golfweek/Titleist Senior Amateur of the Year and the Western Pennsylvania Golf Association Senior Player of the Year.

Two young upstarts displayed their championship mettle at two of the State's most prestigious events. Adam Hofmann of Fox Chapel GC overcame a final-round quadruple bogey to take the Amateur Championship at the Longue Vue Club and Van Sickle of Treesdale G&CC hit quality shot after shot to capture the Open Championship at Lancaster CC.

I would like to congratulate all of the 2007 Champions and to all of those who advanced into the various USGA Championships throughout the year.

It was a pleasure to serve you as President in 2007.

4th R. Jay Sigel Match Play Championship

Gulph Mills GC – King of Prussia, Pa.
May 15-17, 2007

KING OF PRUSSIA, Pa.—Brian Belden, Jr., of Emmaus, Pa., a sophomore at the University of Kentucky, stopped Jeff Daniels of Harrisburg, Pa., a 32-year-old real estate agent, 3&1, for the 4th R. Jay Sigel Amateur Match Play Championship title presented by Your Pennsylvania Toyota Dealers at Gulph Mills GC.

Belden constructed a 4-up advantage after nine holes before closing the match out on No. 17 (par 3, 213 yards) with a conceded birdie.

“I had to make those putts to knock him back a little bit. If I didn’t make those, the result of the match could have definitely been different.”

Brian Belden, Jr., on his clutch putting to defeat Jeff Daniels

The Sigel Championship was Belden’s first state title. His top finish prior was a fourth-place showing at last year’s Amateur Championship.

“This feels good,” said a reserved Belden. “It’s a great start to the summer.”

Belden never trailed in the championship match, recording a par on No. 1 (par 4, 415 yards) and a kick-in birdie on No. 2 (par 4, 404 yards) to jump ahead 2-up. Daniels then conceded an eagle to Belden on No. 7 (par 5, 496 yards) after his second shot drifted into the deep, left quarry guarding the green.

Belden continued the momentum on the ensuing 8th hole (par 4, 351 yards) when the Brookside CC of Allentown member guided a nifty lob wedge from 55 yards out onto the same tier as the back hole location 15 feet left of the flag. Daniels’ 65-yard shot failed to climb the ridge leading to the hole and rolled 30-feet back. Daniels two-putted for par but Belden, as he did all day with the flat stick whenever he needed to, converted his 15-foot birdie chance, to move 4-up.

Daniels, who advanced to the Round of 16 in last year’s 2006 U.S. Publinks Championship, wouldn’t go away quietly, however, and used a par on No. 10 (par 4, 417 yards) and birdie on No. 11 (par 4, 363 yards) to cut the deficit in half. On No. 12 (par 5, 523 yards), Daniels pulled his 5-iron from 203 yards left of the green and failed to get up-and-down. Belden, five yards closer in the fairway, watched his 6-iron just skip sideways into the rough at the top of the greenside bunker. He converted his eventual birdie chance to push his edge back to 3-up. Both players made good par saves on the 14th hole (par 3, 190 yards) after missing the green right. Belden drained a nice six-foot putt with Daniels inside of that.

Daniels did take the next hole after Belden’s tee shot clipped a tree and fell out of bounds, but both players came up short with their approaches on No. 16 (par 4, 400 yards). Both players saved par, Belden draining another 15-footer.

On the match’s final hole, No. 17 (par 3, 213 yards), Daniels missed the green left before Belden rocketed a 5-iron to 12 feet. Daniels chip sailed past the hole and the players shook hands.

“He made all the putts he needed to make,” said Daniels. “I couldn’t hit it in the fairway early and got behind. Fairways here, especially with the rough being thick, are imperative.”

Said Belden, “He was slowly working his way back. I had to make those putts to knock him back a little bit. If I didn’t make those, the result of the match could have definitely been different.”

Benson defeats Polizzi for Senior R. Jay Sigel title

John Benson of Punxsutawney, Pa., defeated Frank Polizzi of Bryn Mawr, Pa., 3&2, for the inaugural R. Jay Sigel Amateur Match Play Championship Senior Division title. The match took two days to complete. The match was postponed on the 14th hole the day prior due to inclement weather. Benson held a 2-up advantage at the time.

The Senior Final swung squarely in Benson's favor right before the delay when the two were playing the 13th hole (par 4, 401 yards). The wind direction had turned into the players' faces for the first time all week with the impending storm bearing down on the course, making the uphill par 4 that much longer. Polizzi, the 12th seed, fired a 4-iron from 180 yards to six feet and "felt this was his chance to get even." Benson, the No. 3 seed, however, responded with a smooth 8-iron from 148 yards that stopped just inside of Polizzi's ball.

Polizzi missed his birdie chance. Benson did not. Benson's three moved him 2-up with five holes to play.

"That was basically the difference," said Benson, a member at Totteridge GC. "Being 2-down is a lot different than being 1-down or even when you are standing on the 14th tee."

The pair exchanged bogeys on the ensuing two holes before the match concluded on No. 16 (par 4, 386 yards) with a Benson birdie and Polizzi bogey.

"I am very happy," said Polizzi, a member of Whitmarsh Valley CC. "I consider this a total success. I played four really good players this week and beat three of them."

Added Benson, a multiple-time champion in other arenas around the Commonwealth and country, "This was very important to me. I had never won a state title before."

94th Amateur Championship

Longue Vue Club – Verona, Pa.

VERONA, Pa.—Adam Hofmann of Fox Chapel GC claimed the state's 94th Amateur Championship presented by Your Pennsylvania Toyota Dealers at a tremendously difficult Longue Vue Club (par 70, 6,633 yards) with a finish to remember. The 18-year-old from Pittsburgh, Pa., played the demanding final three holes in 1-under par to complete the grueling three days and 54 holes in 2-under 208. Nathan Smith of Pinecrest CC, a co-leader with Hofmann after the first two rounds, finished second, a shot back. Steve Arnold of Yardley CC, who turned in a sterling 2-under-par 68, and Nathan Sutherland of Berkshire CC, the first-round leader, tied for third at even-par 210.

"This is a dream for me," said Hofmann, when asked what it's like to see his name on the trophy with legendary past champions like Buddy Marucci and Jay Sigel. "I have a long way to go to catch those guys but it gives me incentive to keep working hard. This is what you work for."

Hofmann, who will be a freshman at Vanderbilt University, and Smith, the 2002 Amateur Champion, opened the day at 4-under par. A few twist and turns later kept the pair deadlocked going to No. 15 (par 5, 540 yards) before Smith forged ahead with a birdie. Smith had 70 yards remaining to the hole when he knocked a wedge to eight feet.

Hofmann remained resolute, though, and after a solid par on the lengthy 16th (par 3, 200 yards), he answered Smith's birdie with a special one of his own. A perfect drive split the fairway, and playing a little downwind, placed a 9-iron in hand from 142 yards. Hofmann pulled the short club a touch but it was a good shot and stopped 15-feet right of the hole.

"I told myself I was going to make [that putt] and it was dead center," said Hofmann, a graduate of Fox Chapel High School.

Tied again, this time on the 18th tee (par 4, 471 yards), a fairway that bends severely right-to-left, Hofmann ripped a driver that just trickled into the left rough 162 yards from the hole. Smith, on the other hand, found serious trouble when his drive went way right into the tree line. Smith punched out and knocked his third shot on and was left with about 35 feet. Hofmann then answered the bell for the biggest shot of his career and punched a "little 7-iron" into the center of the green about 25 feet short of the hole.

Smith's par attempt came up about four feet short and a two-putt later capped a memorable week for Hofmann.

"I was trying to hit it down the right side and it kind of got away from me," said Smith, who bogeyed the final hole all three days. "Adam played great. For him to play the final three holes in 1 under, he deserves to be the champion."

Early on in the round, Hofmann didn't appear to be the anointed one after making a quadruple-bogey eight on No. 6 (par 4, 390 yards). Hofmann knocked it out-of-bounds and left two in the rough. However, he responded with three pars to close out the front side in 3-over 39.

"After that hole I thought it would really be cool to come back and be in contention with a few holes left," said Hofmann. "I had to keep going. I like to grind it out. There is no reason to get mad or give up on yourself. You have to stay level."

Smith, 28, of North Hills, Pa., held a two-shot advantage at the point. His lead would be one at the turn after a lost ball bogey on No. 8 (par 5, 420 yards) cost him a stroke. Smith, who won the 2003 U.S. Middle-Amateur Championship, hit a 9-iron to inches on No. 10 (par 3, 151 yards), but followed up with a pair of bogeys on the next two holes.

Hofmann, too, bogeyed No. 11 (par 4, 400 yards) before responding with a birdie on the short 13th (par 4, 334 yards).

It was after all that that the two headed to No. 15 even.

This was Hofmann's first state Amateur title. He is also the first individual who calls Fox Chapel GC home to win it.

A total of 43 players made the cut for the third and final round. Saucon Valley CC hosts the 2008 Amateur Championship July 28-30.

LANCASTER, Pa.—Mike Van Sickle of Wexford, Pa., the son of renowned Sports Illustrated golf scribe Gary Van Sickle, penned his own Pulitzer piece on Wednesday at Lancaster CC (par 70, 6,828 yards) when the 20-year-old emerged from a wild final-round scramble with a 5-under-par 65 to take the 91st Chuck Deardorff Memorial Open Championship.

“This is way more than I ever could have imagined. I proved to myself that I can play with these guys.”

Nemacolin at Woodlands Resort (Mystic Rock Course).

A resolute Richie Krebs, the unheralded assistant professional from Spring Grove, Pa., who led after each of the first two rounds, finished in second place at 5 under (205 total). His fantastic three days of play earned him the $10,000 top professional prize.

member for a long time,” said Van Sickle, a junior at Marquette University. “I needed to shoot a great round to even come close to catching [Richie]. I was thinking before the day that 66 might be good enough for a playoff.”

Chip Lutz, an amateur from Reading, Pa. and LedgeRock GC, placed third after carding a final round 4-under 66 to finish at 4-under-par overall. Greg Pieczynski of Kingston, Pa., a mini-tour professional, and Stu Ingraham, the head professional at Overbrook GC, tied for fourth at 3-under overall.

“This is way more than I ever could have imagined,” said Krebs, 25, an assistant pro at Hanover CC. “I proved to myself that I can play with these guys.”

Van Sickle entered the third round two

Mike Van Sickle of Wexford, Pa., receives the Arnold Palmer Trophy from Amy (center) and Carol Deardorff after winning the 91st Chuck Deardorff Memorial Open Championship at Lancaster CC. Amy is the daughter and Carol the wife of the late Chuck Deardorff, for whom the Open was named in honor of this year.

Looking to seal the victory right there, Van Sickle made the 20-foot left-to-right breaker to seal the win.

knew Richie was going to make his," said Van Sickle. "I had a pretty good read on it and I had a good feel for the speed."

Krebs held fast atop the leaderboard most of the afternoon before Van Sickle finally ripped the lead away for good on No. 16 (par 4, 357 yards). A long drive and 70-yard wedge left Van Sickle with an uphill 20 footer for birdie. Krebs found the right fairway bunker with his 3-iron off the tee and knocked his approach 25 feet above the hole. On a day when the greens had some speed to them, putting downhill wasn't the place to be. Krebs three-putted after missing his 10-foot comebacker. Van Sickle powered his into the heart to move clear by two shots.

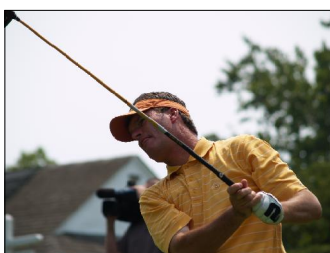

Before that point, the two players volleyed back-and-forth most of the day.

Krebs carded three birdies and a bogey on the front nine to make the turn with a one-stroke lead. Van Sickle quickly responded on No. 10 (par 4, 459 yards) with a pitching wedge from 140 yards to 10 feet. Krebs wasn't rattled, though, and lofted a wedge from 70 yards to two feet on No. 13 (par 5, 517 yards) to regain control by a stroke.

At the 15th hole (par 4, 442 yards), Krebs made a fantastic 12-foot, up-the-hill par save to remain at 6-under par before Van Sickle, just minutes later, drained a slippery six footer for birdie to move into a share of the lead.

14th Middle-Amateur Championship

Huntsville Golf Club – Dallas, Pa.

DALLAS, Pa.—James Sullivan, Jr., of Huntingdon Valley CC became the third player in the 14-year history of the state Middle-Amateur Championship presented by Your Pennsylvania Toyota Dealers to successfully defend his title at Huntsville GC (par 72, 6,919 yards). Sullivan finished at 6-under-par 138 to edge the 89-player field by a stroke.

Eric Williams of Honesdale GC birdied his final two holes to place second and Sean Knapp of Longue Vue Club was third.

"I've never really been successful as a defending champion so this feels great," said Sullivan, who joined Sean Knapp of St. Jude GC and James Bryan of Latrobe

CC as the only other two-time winners. In the process of repeating, Sullivan also equaled his own prior Middle-Amateur Championship tournament record score of 6-under par set last year at Applebrook GC.

The 32-year-old Glenside, Pa., resident entered the final round in a three-way tie atop the leaderboard with Glenn Smeraglio of Yardley CC and P. Chet Walsh of Philadelphia CC at 5-under-par after yesterday's opening round. A quick early burst in the second round helped Sullivan separate himself from the pack but some late struggles combined with a Williams' strong surge made it a photo finish.

"I was playing well for the first 11 holes and then I got nervous," said Sullivan. "I got wrapped up in thinking about winning and all of that other stuff. I was gasping for air at the end."

Sullivan made the turn in 4-under par, 9-under overall, four shots clear of the field and well in control. He birdied No. 1 (par 5, 497 yards) with a two-putt from 25 feet; No. 3 (par 3, 182 yards) with a 7-iron to six inches; No. 4 (par 4, 353 yards) with an 8-iron from 135 yards to eight feet; and No. 7 (par 4, 410 yards) with a 7-iron from 175 yards to two feet.

A bogey on No. 12 (par 5, 532 yards) preceded a birdie on the next par 5, No. 15 (485 yards), and Sullivan was comfortably in front. Knapp stood at 5-under par after 15 holes and was the closest pursuer.

That's when things got interesting. Sullivan put his tee ball on No. 16 (par 4, 391 yards) in the right treeline. A punch out and three-putt later resulted in a double bogey.

Williams, meanwhile, in the group immediately in front hit a 7-iron on the par 3, 17th (179 yards) to 11 feet and made the birdie to move to 4 under, on that same hole. Sullivan fanned his tee shot into the greenside bunker and somehow willed in a 25-footer for par from above the hole.

On No. 18 (par 4, 438 yards), statistically the most difficult of the day, Williams found the fairway bunker and was forced to lay up with his second shot.

However, the 35-year-old from Honesdale, Pa., jarred his wedge from 91 yards for birdie and a 5-under finish. Sullivan, too, found the fairway bunker, laid up as well and clipped a nice wedge to three feet.

Not knowing what Williams did – Sullivan said he figured he had two shots to play with – he rolled his first putt past by six feet. No harm, no foul, though, and Sullivan made the next for the win.

"My goal was to finish in the Top 10 and earn some exemptions for next year," said Williams. "I was blown away when they said I was going to finish second."

3rd Hemlock Championship

Chambersburg Country Club – Chambersburg, Pa.
Sept. 24-25, 2007

Sean Knapp of Longue Vue Club entered the Hemlock Championship presented by Your Pennsylvania Toyota Dealers in search of his first 2007 Major victory despite having placed in the Top 8 in all but one of those tournaments. He exited the two-day event with a five-shot win and a fifth state title to his credit.

Knapp, 45, of Oakmont, Pa., carded rounds of 69 and 70 for a 139 total at Chambersburg CC (par 73, 6,805 yards) to outdistance second-place finisher Mike Owsik of Plymouth CC (71-73-144) and third-place finisher Michael Domenick of Phoenixville CC (72-76-148).

"The one thing I've found out throughout my career is that if you go out and play well winning takes care of itself," said Knapp. "It's sort of like a biorhythm. Sometimes you shoot scores and they hold up and other times they don't. I was playing well throughout the year, I just was not winning."

Knapp sealed up his Hemlock victory in style.

He registered two birdies and an eagle in the final four holes.

On No. 15 (par 4, 331 yards), Knapp dropped a sand wedge from 80 yards to four feet after Owsik was already on the green and staring at a six-foot birdie opportunity. Both players made their putts and Knapp maintained his two-shot advantage.

Sean Knapp of the Longue Vue Club captured the third Hemlock Championship. It was Knapp's fifth state championship.

A pair of pars on the 16th hole (par 4, 402 yards), preceded, in essence, Knapp's championship blow on No. 17 (par 5, 520 yards). Left with 205 yards to the hole, 190 yards to the front edge of the green of the par 5, and with water protecting the back portion of the putting surface, he rocketed a 6-iron from the short right rough.

"It came out like a bullet, right on line," said Knapp. "It hit right in front. I was a little unlucky in that it hit so soft on the fringe that it almost plugged."

Knapp, staring at a 40-foot eagle putt, was looking to lag his long chance to assure at least a birdie score, when it dropped. Owsik managed a par. Knapp's lead was four strokes with one hole to play.

"I was finally able to shake things up there," said Knapp. "There really wasn't a winner or a loser, though. Mike played well enough to win. It was kind of like one of those things that happened to me all year."

Added Owsik, "Sean Knapp made the crucial shots when he needed, especially the eagle on the 17th hole to basically put the championship out of my reach. I had my chance at the 14th hole to put some pressure on Sean, however, I missed a six-footer for birdie. We both birdied the 15th hole and Sean put it away with his eagle on the 17th."

Knapp completed his championship run on No. 18 (par 4, 342 yards) when he knocked his approach shot to two feet.

68th George Dressler Amateur Public Links

Dauphin Highlands Golf Course – Harrisburg, Pa.
May 12–13, 2007

Chance Miller of Lancaster, Pa., birdied the second playoff hole (No. 2, par 4, 288 yards) to edge out Jordan Griggs of South Williamsport, Pa., and Travis Howe of Osceola, Pa., to take the 68th George Dressler Amateur Public Links Championship at Dauphin Highlands GC (par 72, 6,847 yards) presented by Your Pennsylvania Toyota Dealers.

Miller carded a total of nine birdies over two days of competition at the Harrisburg-area club to finish in a three-way tie for first with Griggs and Howe.

“Having played well on the first day, I just wanted to play well and not choke heading into the second day,” said Miller, a carpenter by trade. “And when the second day came and I played just as well as in my first round, I thought winning the [Amateur Pub Links Championship] was something I could do.”

Although Miller thought he was out of contention early on in the second day, he quickly realized he was part of a three-way tie after he sunk his par putt on the par 3, 17th hole (177 yards) and looked up at the leaderboard.

However, things appeared to take a turn for the worse on the par 4, 18th hole (403 yards) as his second shot found the deep greenside bunker on the far right side of the hole.

“So when I got over the putt, I said to myself, ‘This is why you play golf for 20 years. Now’s the time to make it.’”

Lancaster, Pa.

“I had the lip pretty close to my ball and I thought I was dead,” he said.

But Miller managed to get the ball out of trouble and onto the green, albeit 15 feet from the hole.

“The only thing that was going through my head was remembering hearing professionals speak of how all they want is that putt for their first win or tie,” Miller said. “So when I got over the putt, I said to myself, ‘This is why you play golf for 20 years. Now’s the time to make it.’”

And make it he did. Miller sunk the right-to-left breaking putt right in the heart of the cup to advance to his first playoff.

“I just picked my spot and hit it,” said Miller of his clutch final putt in regulation play. “I’m not one to jump around up and down or make noise on a golf course but when that putt went in, I had to give it a little fist pump.”

In the playoff, the 40-year-old Miller found himself facing a couple young guns in 21-year-old Griggs and 19-year-old Howe.

“On the first tee, right away you start thinking that these kids are going to be longer than you,” said Miller, who began playing the game in the sixth grade.

But Miller hung in there and traded pars with his fellow competitors on the first playoff hole before carding a birdie on the second and final playoff hole, while Griggs and Howe had their troubles on and around the green.

Miller played position golf electing to hit his 3-wood off the tee on the short but tricky second hole (par 4,

Bent Creek Country Club – Lititz, Pa.
May 29-30, 2007

Alan Borowsky (left) and Jason Bernstein of White Manor CC carded a pair of 65s to win the State Better-Ball Championship at Bent Creek CC by one stroke.

LITITZ, Pa.—Jason Bernstein, 19, of Paoli, Pa., and Alan Borowsky, 21, of Bala Cynwyd, Pa., longtime friends and golfing buddies from White Manor CC, carded a final-round 65 to finish at 12-under par and capture the 18th Better-Ball Championship presented by Your Pennsylvania Toyota Dealers by a stroke at Bent Creek CC (par 71, 6,731 yards).

It was the first state better-ball crown for the duo who entered the second and final round as tri-leaders at 6 under. Chris Gallagher, 25, of West Chester, Pa., and Phil Over, 40, of Malvern, Pa., members at Penn Oaks GC, birdied three of the final four holes to finish alone in second place at 11 under.

A group of four teams, including fellow first-round tri-leaders George Elias, 61, of Swoyersville, Pa., and Irem Temple CC and Tony Kondracki, 53, of Kingston, Pa., and Fox Hill CC, placed third at 10 under.

“We’ve been playing together since we were 6 years old,” said Bernstein, a sophomore at the University of Delaware. “We felt we had just as good a shot as anyone coming into the tournament.”

This was the first better-ball title of any kind for Bernstein and Borowsky.

Nine holes into the final round, Elias and Kondracki appeared poised to take the crown. The two made eight straight 3s on the front side thanks to some white-hot putting and a par 5 on the ninth hole (548 yards) to make the turn in 29 and at 12-under par. Bernstein and Borowsky, a group behind, posted a 4-under par 31 and were two strokes back with nine holes to go.

However, a birdie by Bernstein on No. 11 (par 4, 369 yards) tightened the gap and when Elias and Kondracki bogeyed No. 17 (par 4, 310 yards), their first over-par score of the day, the two groups fell into a tie. In the meantime, Gallagher and Over had already posted their score.

Minutes later on No. 17, Bernstein and Borowsky took the lead for good.

Bernstein launched his drive into the back greenside bunker while Borowsky played safe and placed his approach shot from 120 yards out to eight feet. Bernstein stayed aggressive and followed his drive up by knocking the bunker shot to two feet. The easy birdie put the two at 12 under with the reachable par 5, 18th (523 yards) left.

Elias and Kondracki seemingly ran out of steam, however, and carded another bogey with an errant tee shot on the final hole. Bernstein and Borowsky, now knowing a par would win, played the No. 18 conservatively. They both recorded fives after leaving themselves with short approach shots.

“I told Jason we had no control over what anyone else does so we can’t worry about that,” said Borowsky, a recent graduate of Lehigh University. “I told him we need to take it one shot at a time.”

On the front nine, Bernstein recorded three birdies and Borowsky two. Bernstein spun a wedge back to two feet on No. 3 (par 4, 431 yards), made a downhill 18-foot slider on No. 8 (par 4, 418 yards) and knocked a 25-foot chip on No. 9 to five feet.

Borowsky put a sand wedge from 102 yards to eight feet on No. 4 (par 4, 403 yards) and made a tricky downhill on the driveable 7th hole (par 4, 321 yards) after both he and his partner came up about 10 yards short.

Gallagher and Over made a stirring push to get close. The two made the turn in 3-under 32 and found themselves in the hunt when Gallagher hit it to a foot on No. 15 (par 3, 235 yards) with a 3-iron; go up-and-down from the right greenside moguls on No. 17 and hit a flop shot from long and right of the 18th green to six feet.

“I knew we were chasing all day,” said Over. Added Gallagher, “I thought we would need 62 to win.”

Williamsport Country Club – Williamsport, Pa.
June 11-12, 2007

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa.—Joe Cordaro of the Longue Vue Club and Paul Schlachter of The Club at Nevillewood used an eagle on the final hole (par 5, 501 yards) of Williamsport CC (par 70, 6,501 yards) to sweep into the lead and capture the Pennsylvania Senior Better-Ball Championship presented by Your Pennsylvania Toyota Dealers.

Schlachter, 58, of Bridgeville, Pa., and Cordaro, 55, of Pittsburgh, Pa., finished at 7-under-par 133 for the two rounds. The first-round leading pair of King Knox of Lancaster CC and Andy Tompos of Lancaster Host Resort tied for second with Lee Lykens and Don Erickson of Totteridge GC and Indiana CC, respectively, a stroke back.

A poor start didn't make Cordaro and Schlachter the championship favorites. The duo bogeyed two of the first seven holes to fall back to even for the tournament before starting their title-run push.

"We weren't doing anything," said Schlachter, 58, of Bridgeville, Pa. "We knew we were behind and had to start making shots."

The duo starting on No. 8 (par 4, 435 yards).

Schlachter holed an 81-yard wedge for birdie after having to punch out from under a tree. The pair were at 1-under for 27 holes, yet still trailed the leaders, Lykens and Erickson, by four strokes. Cordaro kept the momentum going with a 30-foot birdie putt on the 10th hole (par 3, 150 yards) before Schlachter took charge, recording three birdies and an eagle in his final seven holes. Schlachter topped the comeback when he knocked a 6-iron to 12 feet for the eventual clinching three. The duo posted a 6-under-par 29 on the back nine.

"Sometimes things just happen," said Schlachter. "It was an exciting way to win."

"I think the momentum sort of changed on No. 10. Lykens and Erickson made bogey and we felt if I could make the 30-foot birdie putt we had a chance."

The victory was Schlachter's sixth career state title and his second Senior Better-Ball victory. This was Cordaro's first Senior Better-Ball crown. He has won three Better-Ball Championships.

In the Super-Senior Division, Warren Deakins and Richard Smith of Philadelphia CC (par 71, 6,132 yards) fired an 8-under-par 63 to finish at 134 and walked away with the title by five strokes. The team entered the day two shots in back of eventual second-place finishers Charles Watterson and Bill Douds of St. Clair CC. Deakins and Smith took the Senior Division title in 1995 at The Club at Nevillewood.

288 yards). From there, he knocked an 80-yard sand wedge just left of the flagstick and hole high.

All that remained was an eight-foot, left-to-right breaking putt for birdie and the win.

"I made that putt and just remember standing up and saying to myself, 'Wow, I can't believe I just won,'" said an ecstatic Miller.

Although the win is a huge confidence builder for Miller, a father of five, he will not be back to defend his title in 2008 as he has joined Media Heights GC, thus eliminating his Public Links eligibility.

Senior Division

On the strength of a 1-under-par, second round front nine, Andy Tompos of Lititz, Pa., held on to grab the Senior Amateur Public Links Championship at Dauphin Highlands GC (par 72, 6,465 yards).

"Even though I am old, winning never gets old," Tompos said.

Tompos' second round front nine was highlighted by an eagle on No. 5 (par 5, 491 yards) and a birdie on the eighth hole (par 3, 200 yards).

But it was a tale of two nines for Tompos as his lead disappeared after a double bogey on the 15th hole (par 3, 165 yards) caused him to fall into a tie for first place with Joel McFadden of Exton, Pa.

Fortunately for Tompos, he settled down to par the remaining three holes which included a clutch 10-foot par putt on the par 3, 17th hole (177 yards). While McFadden played the same stretch in 1-over-par, ensuring Tompos a one-stroke victory.

"Lots of pressure, lots of fun and great competitors," said the 60-year-old Tompos. "And it was a well-run event as usual."

57th Junior Championship

Penn National Golf Club (Iron Forge/Founders course) – Fayetteville, Pa.
July 9-10, 2007

Robert Galbreath Jr., of Philmont CC, rode his bogey-free, 4-under-par final round of 68 at Penn National GC (Iron Forge Course) to take the 57th Junior Boys' Championship, presented by Your Pennsylvania Toyota Dealers, with a 5-under-par two-round total of 139 (71-68).

The 16 year old from Huntingdon Valley, Pa., started off round one of the two-day event at the Founders' Course (the first of the two courses used) in disappointing fashion, with bogeys on holes Nos. 10 (par 5, 524 yards), his first hole of the tournament, and 13 (par 3, 184 yards).

However, Galbreath quickly righted the ship and finished the day with birdies on holes Nos. 1 (par 4, 356 yards), 4 (par 4, 379 yards), 7 (par 5, 615 yards) and 18 (par 4, 405 yards). He headed into the second and final round two strokes behind co-leaders Michael Kania of Overbrook GC and Patrick Welsh of Huntingdon Valley CC.

Galbreath would need to turn to his short game in order to make up the difference.

"I felt that I needed to take advantage of every wedge I had," he said. "I think I hit about three or four shots from about 90 yards out to inside five feet or so. I would definitely say that if my wedge game was not as good as it was [in the final round], I definitely would not have won the tournament."

Added Galbreath, who also won his third Golf Association of Philadelphia Junior Boys' Championship in 2007, "It's interesting because my game plan for the first day was to just go out and play real conservative and not shoot myself out of the tournament. But when I got off to a horrendous start, I knew I couldn't play scared. So I started aiming at some pins and taking some chances and that is when I started making my birdies."

That birdie run continued into the next day to include birdies on holes Nos. 8 (par 4, 415 yards), 11 (par 5, 539 yards), 15 (par 4, 404 yards) and 17 (par 5, 603 yards).

Galbreath's error-free final round helped him finish the tournament three shots clear of the field.

"I thought the tournament was a lot of fun, but very nerve-wracking at the same time," he said. "I don't think I've ever been more nervous down the stretch of a golf tournament than I did in this one, so when I pulled off some shots I did, it was a big relief."

Junior Team Championship

The Junior Team Championship runs concurrently with the Junior Championship. Teams consist of a minimum of three players/maximum of four players with scores calculated by adding the low three totals from each day. (Teams with three players use all three scores.) This was Philmont Country Club's first Junior Team Championship. Team members included Eric Chipin, Jake Lebowitz and Robert Galbreath, Jr., the 2007 Junior Champion.

48th Senior Amateur Championship

Lehigh County Club – Allentown, Pa.
Aug. 6-7, 2007

ALLENTOWN, Pa.—Ray Thompson of Overbrook GC entered the state's elder circuit with a dominant victory over a strong field in the 48th Senior Amateur Championship presented by Your Pennsylvania Toyota Dealers at Lehigh CC (par 70, 6,486 yards).

Thompson, 55, of Drexel Hill, Pa., finished the two days and 36 holes in a spectacular 6-under par (136 total). Paul Schlachter of The Club at Nevillewood, the defending champion, placed second at 3-under par and Andy Thompson of Overbrook GC, Ray's older brother, finished in third at 1-under par.

"It's nice to win a state tournament," said Ray Thompson. "I've been working really hard on my game for five years and I'm finally starting to see the results."

Ray Thompson opened the second round with a three-shot lead on brother Andy and Ed Chylinski of Chester Valley GC after an opening-round 66. A pair of birdies and bogeys combined with a push from Andy cut Ray's advantage to one after nine holes. However, Ray responded in style on the back side, carding birdies on No. 11 (par 5, 501 yards) with a smooth 4-iron from 218 yards to 15 feet and two putting, and a 6-iron on the par 3, 184-yard 13th to four feet. He would par the final five holes for the victory.

"That birdie on 13 turned out to be huge because it gave me a cushion," said Thompson. "It allowed me to par my way in."

Schlachter, 58, of Bridgeville, Pa., the top-ranked senior in the Golfweek rankings, did his best to surge into contention after a rough beginning. He bogeyed the opening two holes after a pair of poor second shots but responded with three birdies on holes 4-5-8 to make the turn at even par for the championship. He stood four shots back of Ray Thompson at the time. Schlachter continued to grind away and birdied No. 13 (par 3, 184 yards) with a 6-iron to 20 feet; No. 15 (par 4, 369 yards) with a 7-iron to four feet and No. 16 (par 3, 177 yards) with a 6-iron to six feet.

The round may have been just the beginning for Schlachter. He's focused on fundamentals, lately, and that's led to some uncharacteristic struggles. "I've been playing my swing instead of playing golf," said Schlachter. "I'm to the point I'm kind of doing it decently on the range but haven't got it to the course yet."

Schlachter finished his second round in 4-under-par 66. Andy Thompson, 58, of Marple Newtown, Pa., pressed his brother with a 2-under-par 33 on the front nine behind birdies on Nos. 5 (par 4, 398 yards) and No. 8 (par 4, 381 yards), but fell back with two bogeys and no birdies on his inward side.

In the Super-Senior Division, for players 65 years of age and older, Richard Smith of Philadelphia CC posted a second-round 72 to finish at 1-over par for the two days and three strokes ahead of the field. The victory was Smith's second Super-Senior Division title. He also captured that championship in 2004 at Saucon Valley CC. Smith has finished second the last two years.

"I won it three years ago at Saucon Valley so it's nice to win it again," said Smith, 70, of Villanova, Pa. "I played solid all week. I had no double bogeys and I missed only one fairway over the two days."

W.C. Fownes, Jr., Amateur Player of the Year

Nathan Smith – Pinecrest Country Club

Nathan Smith's analysis of the Player of the Year Standings prior to his U.S. Middle-Amateur Championship trip in late September was nothing more than a cursory glance.

"I wasn't following it that closely," said the Pinecrest, Pa., resident of the POY race. "There were so many guys playing well all summer it could have gone to a host of people. I really didn't know what I had to do in the Mid-Am [to win the Player of the Year]. I figured I'm trying to go as far as I can [in the Mid-Am] anyway. I was fortunate."

If Smith delved deep into the numbers, he would have realized a pretty nerve wracking scenario. The 30-year-old needed a Round of 32 appearance to secure his second Pennsylvania Golf Association William C. Fownes, Jr., Player of the Year Award in the past five years. A tall order for sure. Now consider he ended up in a 10-man playoff for the final five U.S. Mid-Am match play spots and that in the playoff Smith needed six holes to outlast Chris Kuhlke, Augusta, Ga., for the 64th and final qualifying position.

Even after all of that, Smith still needed to defeat medallist George Zahringer, III, of New York, N.Y., to assure his second state player of the year.

"That day was crazy," said Smith, the 2003 U.S. Middle-Amateur Champion. "I had to finish my final nine holes at 7:30 a.m., then play in a 10-man playoff and then at 2 p.m. compete against the guy who has been playing the best all week."

Smith, a member at Pinecrest CC, defeated the top seed Zahringer, 1-up, after both players birdied the final hole. He would eventually advance to the Round of 16 with another 1-up triumph over Packard Dewitt of Germantown, Tenn., in the second round before being eliminated.

"It's an honor and I'm truly excited to be the state player of the year," said Smith. "There are so many great players in the state that anyone of them could have won it. I was very fortunate."

Smith accumulated a total of 547 points from four events this year, 47 clear of second-place finisher Mike Van Sickle of Wexford, Pa. In addition to the U.S. Middle-Amateur, Smith scored points with a second-place outing in the State Amateur at Longue Vue Club, an event he was tied for the lead in before a bogey on the final hole; a Top 5 finish in the Sunnehanna Amateur and by qualifying for the U.S. Amateur Championship.

Senior Player of the Year

Paul Schlachter – The Club at Nevillewood

Paul Schlachter of The Club at Nevillewood already stood atop the Golfweek/Titleist Senior Amateur Rankings and was well on his way to the inaugural Pennsylvania Golf Association Senior Player of the Year when he decided it was time for a change.

"I think I thought that I could keep going on and doing well but to get to the very top (being a contender for the U.S. Senior Amateur Championship) I needed to be a little better at some things," said the 58-year-old Schlachter. "My ball striking wasn't good enough."

So mid-year, Schlachter corrected his swing faults. While at it, in July, he changed equipment, to TaylorMade irons, and then in October moved to a long putter.

"I made a decision I had to get better to accomplish what I wanted to," Schlachter continued. "Right now [as of January 2008], I'm at a point that I'm doing it well on the range but inconsistent on the golf course."

Even with the self-imposed mid-season revamp, Schlachter's early-year performances were so dominant that the former high-school teacher easily earned the inaugural Pennsylvania Golf Association Senior Player of the Year Award. Schlachter out-pointed John Benson of Punxsutawney, Pa., 1,227.5 to 615. Propelling Schlachter to the Senior POY were victories in three

Society of Seniors tournaments: the Senior Masters at the GC at Terra Lago in Indio, Calif.; the Inverness Senior Invitational at Inverness GC in Toledo, Ohio and the Gateway Senior Invitational at Gateway G&CC in Fort Myers, Fla.; a tie for second in the Adams Golf Senior Championship at Lake Jovita CC in Dade City, Fla.; and a second-place showing in the Pennsylvania Golf Association Senior Amateur Championship at Lehigh CC.

Schlachter also earned points for a victory with partner Joe Cordaro in the Senior Better-Ball Championship; for advancing to the quarterfinals of the Senior R. Jay Sigel Match Play Championship; and for top performances in the National Senior Hall of Fame; Senior Azalea, Dave King and Sunnehanna Senior.

Schlachter was also recognized as the 2007 Golfweek/Titleist Senior Amateur of the Year and the Western Pennsylvania Golf Association Senior Player of the Year.

"To win all three Players of the Year is exciting," said Schlachter. "I'm very proud of that."
